

Off-Campus Jurisdiction of the Student Code of Social Conduct

The Student Code of Conduct may apply to any student conduct that occurs on University premises, at University sponsored activities, and also off-campus conduct that adversely affects the University Community or the pursuit of its objectives, including, but not limited to, any off-campus conduct that constitutes a violation of any law or municipal ordinance or any off-campus conduct that poses a threat to the health, safety or welfare of any members of the University Community or any residents of the neighboring communities. Each student shall be responsible for his or her conduct from the time of acceptance for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment (and even if the conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded). The Student Code of Conduct shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. The Director shall decide whether the Student Code of Conduct shall be applied to conduct off campus, on a case by case basis, in his or her sole discretion of the University.

(As found on pg. 74 of the 2009-2010 edition of The Source). The bold phrases are not found in The Source.

Selling Alcohol or Serving Alcohol to Minors

Supplying alcohol to persons under 21 carries severe consequences both on-and-off campus. If you are caught, you can be arrested for providing alcohol to minors and may face stiff fines, loss of license and possible sanctions from the University. If you are convicted for selling alcohol at your property (including charging for cups or an entrance fee), you could face arrest, loss of driver's license and fines of at least $1,000 or more.