Contemporary discussions of politics, journalism, and social issues regularly reflect the influence of George Orwell’s classic novel Nineteen Eighty-Four. Expressions like “Big Brother is Watching” and the term “Orwellian” routinely appear in modern speech and writings. Published in 1949, the book reflects the turbulent world in which Orwell participated from the waning of British colonialism to the rise of the Cold War. This course will explore the historical and cultural context that shaped Orwell as well as the ways in which Orwell’s writings have been used and continue to be used by politicians, commentators and others.

Required Texts:
* Nineteen Eighty-Four* by George Orwell (Signet)
* Animal Farm* by George Orwell (Signet)
* Burmese Days* by George Orwell (Harcourt)
* A Collection of Essays* by George Orwell (Harcourt)
Various handouts and Blackboard links

Grading:
- Article report and analysis: 20 percent
- Class discussion, quizzes: 25 percent
- Study questions: 30 percent
- Final synthesis essay (take-home): 25 percent

Policies:
All work must be submitted in hard copy form unless otherwise indicated. Work must be typed, double-spaced and multiple pages must be stapled. Always keep a hard copy of any assignment you submit.

Discussion is a key component of this course. Therefore, students are expected to be present at all class meetings and activities. Absences will be grounds for reduction of your final grade.

Weekly schedule:
1/29
Introduction to course and the Historical Context for studying George Orwell
For tonight: Read “A Hanging” (1931) (online), and in Collection: “Shooting an Elephant” (1946), “Marrakech” (1939) and “Why I Write” (1946).

Homework: For 2/5, read “Such, Such Were the Joys” in Collection; and excerpts from Down and Out in Paris and London (1933) and Wigan Pier (1937).

Begin reading Burmese Days (1934); must be completed by 2/12.
2/5
Early Influences: Orwell as both insider and outsider
Discuss “Such, Such”; Down and Out and Wigan Pier.

Reports:
1) Orwell, “Reflections on Gandhi” (1949), in Collection
2) Beadle, “George Orwell’s Literary Studies of Poverty in England” (1978)

Homework: For 2/12, complete reading Burmesse Days.
Answer Burmesse Days study questions, to be handed in on 2/12.

2/12
White man’s burden—the mask of the imperialist
Discuss Burmesse Days.

Burmesse Days study questions due.

Reports:

Homework: For 2/19, read selections from Homage to Catalonia (pp. 1-4; chapter 5) distributed in class; and read in Collection “Looking Back on the Spanish Civil War.”

Complete study questions.

2/19
Fighting for a Just Cause
Discuss “Homage” selections and “Looking Back” in class.

Reports:

Homework: For 2/22, read Gornick essay; and in Collection pp. 234-252 (selection from “Inside the Whale”).

Answer study questions on Communism, due 2/26.

2/26
Communism: Allure and Backlash in the United States
Discuss Gornick, study questions, and excerpt from “Inside the Whale”

Reports:
1) Orwell, “The English Revolution” (Part III of The Lion and the Unicorn)
2) Fleay and Sanders, “Looking into the Abyss: George Orwell at the BBC” (1989)

Homework: for 3/5 Read Animal Farm

Answer Study Questions on Animal Farm, due 3/5.

3/5
Are Men Pigs?
Discuss Animal Farm and study questions

Study Questions on Animal Farm due.

Homework: For 3/12 read essay by Tony Shaw, “Some Writers are More Equal than Others': George Orwell, the State and Cold War Privilege” (distributed in class)

3/12

The (Ab)uses of a fable: legacies of Animal Farm
Continue discussion of Animal Farm, including Shaw essay, and view film versions.

Reports: 1) Orwell, selections from “As I Please”
2) Orwell, “Raffles and Miss Blandish,” in Collection

Homework: [Note: Class will not meet again until 4/2 due to spring break and professors’ conference.] For 4/2 read “Politics and the English Language” in Collection, Orwell “New Words” (handout) and the following essays (hand-outs from What Orwell Didn’t Know): Lakoff, “What Orwell Didn’t Know About the Brain, the Mind, and Language” (2007), and Cowan, “Reporters and Rhetoric” (2007)

Begin reading Nineteen Eighty-Four; must be completed by 4/9.

3/15-3/22 Spring Break

3/26 NO CLASS MEETING—professors are presenting a conference paper
Continue reading Nineteen Eighty-Four and answer study questions as assigned

4/2

“Good prose is like a windowpane”
Discuss “Politics and the English Language” plus essays by Lakoff and Cowan
Reports: 1) Prose, “Sloppiness and the English Language,” and Williams, “An Egregious Collocation of Vocables” (both from What Orwell Didn’t Know (2007) :

Begin discussion of Nineteen Eighty-Four

4/9

Warning or Prediction?: A Dystopia for Orwell’s Time—and Ours
Discuss Nineteen Eighty-Four.
Study Questions on Nineteen Eighty-Four due.
2) Hitchens, “Orwell and the Left,” chp. 3 from WOM

Homework: For 4/16, read essays distributed in class.
OR
1) Zimbardo, “Mind Control in George Orwell’s Nineteen Eighty-Four” from On Nineteen Eighty-Four: Orwell and our Future
2) Nussbaum, “The Death of Pity: Orwell and American Political Life”

Assignment for final paper distributed

4/16
“You and the Atom Bomb”
Discuss Nineteen Eighty-Four and assigned essays.

View film, “Dr. Strangelove,” dir. Kubrick (1964)

Homework: Read Orwell, “You and the Atom Bomb”
Write response to study question(s) on Orwell and “Strangelove” as assigned.

4/23
“Duck and cover”
Discuss “Dr. Strangelove”
View “The Atomic Café”
For 4/30, read Kaplan, “Welcome to the Infotainment Freak Show,” and Navasky, “Neither Snow, Nor Rain. . .,” both from What Orwell Didn’t Know

4/30
“Tits, twits, and tornadoes”
Discuss essays by Kaplan and Navasky
Reports: 1) Beadle, “George Orwell and the Victorian Radical Tradition” (1976)
2) West, “Sex, Law, Power and the Community” (2005)

Summary and synthesis

Final Synthesis Paper accepted through Wednesday, May 6, 3pm.