

RIDER UNIVERSITY WRITING PROJECT

Spring Writing Conference

LOWER YOUR SCREENS, LIFT-UP YOUR PENS

For educators from pre-K through college

JOIN THE RIDER UNIVERSITY WRITING PROJECT (RWP) for an afternoon of storytelling, writing and connecting. Author Cornelius Minor (We Got This) will provide opening remarks via a recorded message. You'll also hear from Gita Varadarajan (co-author of Take a Seat and author of My Bindi), in-person who will speak on the topics of identity and belonging.

Whether you're feeling tired, uninspired or just disconnected from why you became a teacher, this exciting event is sure to reignite your passion. Light refreshments will be served and the first ten to register will receive a door prize. Other giveaways will include autographed copies of the authors' books.

The details:

- » Date: Saturday, May 20, 2023
- » Time: 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
- » Location: Rider University — BLC Fireside Lounge
2083 Lawrenceville Rd., Lawrenceville, NJ 08648
- » Cost: free
- » For educators from pre-k through college

Questions?

Email site director Laurell Parris at laparris@rider.edu or call 609-896-5000, ext. 5527.

For more information, scan or visit:

RIDER.EDU/RWPCONFERENCE

RIDER
UNIVERSITY