The International Business Co-major is designed to enable students in the College of Business Administration to expand the breadth and depth of their knowledge by combining international business with another business major. Concurrent business majors include: Accounting, Advertising, Business Administration, Computer Information Systems, Economics, Entrepreneurial Studies, Global Supply Chain Management, Human Resource Management, Management and Leadership, and Marketing.

The International Business Co-Major requires 15 credits of international business electives (including one which must be an experiential or a short-term study abroad course), plus 6 credits of international liberal arts electives for a total of 21 international course credits.

International Business Major
CBA courses (15 credits)

4 international business electives from the following:
- International Advertising
- International Business Law
- Independent Study: Global Business
- International Trade and Investment
- Comparative Economic Systems
- The Post Soviet Economy & U.S. Business
- International Finance
- International Management
- International Marketing

1 experiential elective from the following:
- Global Business Internship
- Global Business Study Tour
- Independent Study: Global Business
- Nature’s Business Study Tour
- Emerging Nations Study Tour
- Global Encounters: JAMAICA
- Special Topics: MODEL UN

Liberal Arts electives (6 credits)

With an International Business Co-major, it is possible for the student to minor in a foreign language. The minor requires 18 credits, 6 of which may be fulfilled through the international liberal arts requirement for the co-major.

In order to strengthen the program, we offer Nature’s Business interdisciplinary travel courses which are taught by both business and science faculty.

We also have periodic lectures that bring “international” business speakers to campus. There is a Mentorship Program that pairs Rider students with Sanda students to help the Sanda students adjust to Rider and the United States.